DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to the Election and the amendment filed April 7, 2005.

Status of Claims

2. Claims 15-22 and 24-25 are canceled. Claims 1-14, 23, 26-34 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

3. Applicant's election of Species I (claims 1-8, 11-14 and 26-34) in the reply filed on April 7, 2005 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).
4. Claims 9-10 and 23 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on April 7, 2005.

Specification

5. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1-8, 11-14 and 26-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bergner et al. (US 6,927,172).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Bergner et al. teaches a method of protecting devices formed in a silicon substrate from shinning spots present in a periphery of the substrate (Abstract, col. 1, lines 7-66). Bergner et al. shows forming a ring of material atop the substrate to separate the periphery of the substrate from a further region of the substrate wherein the devices are formed (Abstract, Fig. 3, col. 2, lines 30-56). Bergner et al. discloses depositing a negative or positive resist layer on the substrate and then patterning the resist layer (Fig. 1-6, col. 5, lines 20-25). Bergner et al. teaches depositing a further layer of resist on the substrate and patterning a further region of the substrate, the ring of material being of a sufficient thickness that is not patterned during the step of patterning the further layer of resist (Fig. 4-6, col. 1, lines 58-66, col. 3, lines 20-25).

In addition, Bergner et al. teaches forming a pad oxide layer, a pad nitride and other preliminary layers being formed on the top of the substrate (Fig.1, 8, col. 2, lines 28-55). Bergner et al. shows forming the ring on the top of the substrate having the pad oxide layer, the pad nitride and other preliminary layers layers; therefore, the hard mask layer is inherently present (Fig.1, 4, 8, col. 2, lines 28-65, col. 3, lines 16-20). Bergner et al. discloses depositing a layer of resist over the substrate including over the periphery region and in the ring of material, patterning the layer of resist and effecting the substrate in alignment with the patterned layer of resist (Abstract, Fig. 5-6, col. 1, lines 58-66, col. 3, lines 5-47, col. 5, lines 5-13).

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Nakayama et al. (US 6,291,315), Dobuzinsky et al. (US 6,806,200), Perng (US 6,033,997), Butschke et al. (US 6,864,182) and Chen (US 6,713,236) teach several steps related to applicant's disclosure.
